Publications of Propaganda Leaflets for the Enemy in War

Documentation of Propaganda Leaflets for the Enemy of World War I and II in Europe

Note: each volume of the 20 leaflet series available at the moment is a complete documentation. The leaflets of each series are illustrated in colour and are listed in a bibliography in every volume.

In addition an introduction and an appendix provide an insight into secret organisations which produced and disseminated billions of single information sheets and organized dissemination in enemy territory.

Each leaflet series and volume is arranged chronologically i.e. in the order leaflets had been dispatched and received by the individual civilian or soldier on the other side of the front. The format of the volumes is 23 x 32 cm or 21 x 30 cm respectively.

The numbers of pages per volume vary from 250 to over 700 and the weight from over 2 to over 4 Kilograms. For more information on how to order, see end of this volume.

An illustrated History of World War II in Aerial Propaganda Leaflets

Almost anything of importance happening during WW II, from 1939 to 1945, was addressed by leaflets. Of course, leaflets coming from the enemy are not disseminated to amuse or inform the reader. As a weapon of warfare leaflets are sent to the enemy to try to influence him to think and act in such a way as to give advantage to the sender. To achieve this goal facts, lies, illustrations are used accordingly.

Handbook of Leaflets

Propaganda Leaflets from England and the USA in Western Europe to the Germans 1939–1945. Central Series.

Each leaflet is described in the manner shown above and a small box is provided to tick leaflets which have already been identified and of which originals have been acquired.

For fast and accurate access the bilingual handbook comprises these sections:

■ The first section lists the complete central series of leaflets disseminated by the American and British Governments addressing Germans in Western Europe.

British Series: EH 1939–1941 + G.1942 + G.1943 + G.1944, 1945

American series: USG

British, American Series: VG + WG + XG + ZG

■ The following sections are:

Rocket Leaflets from Germany disseminated to the American and British soldiers in Western Europe 1944/1945.

SS-Soup-Kitchen for American Soldiers. Where and how to buy leaflets.

Where have all the Billions of Leaflets gone?

■ At the very end, five original leaflets are provided free.

NATIONALKOMITEE Freies Deutschland

Am 12. Juli 1943 wurde das Nationalkomitee „Freies Deutschland“ gegründet. Daraus schreiben wir in diesem Flugblatt: „Die Tatsachen beweisen: der Krieg ist verloren. Deutschland kann ihn nur noch beschleppen, um den Preis unmenschlicher Opfer und Entbehrungen“. Kommt von hier haben ihrwachen die Schlachthausgeschworen, mit denen die Lagerpropaganda Helden durch Wahrheit zu verhehlen sucht.

Leaflets of the National Committee “Free
Germany” 1943 – 1945

The most extensive “black” leaflet propaganda campaign in World War II was conducted by Soviet-Russia against the German Wehrmacht, see opposite illustration.

Using the flag of the German Empire “black-white-red” the Soviet Union founded the “National Committee ‘Free Germany’” and used it for propaganda purposes only.

German soldiers and officers in Soviet captivity were invited to join this movement.

Special leaflets were produced and disseminated by the Soviet Government among German soldiers still fighting for Hitler.

Malingering, instructions provided by Psychological Warfare.

“The most important thing about a war is to come back home alive.” This motto the British and German propagandists used in their “black” propaganda to their respective enemies during World War II.

Detailed advice is given on how to lie and cheat successfully in war and avoid death on the battle field.

Two booklet facsimiles and a detailed description of camouflage covers that had been used in World War II are part of this documentation.

Order #B-54: Euro 25,00 + postage

Leaflets Falling from the skies.

The package consists of 24 postcard facsimiles including see-through cards and leaflets disseminated in WW I and II.

The series of see-through cards "Where is the Tommy?" are made up to tell French soldiers in 1939/1940 non verbally: "Tommyes are in your beds with your wives! They are having a good time while you have to fight and die at the front!" Note the wounded French soldier holding the photograph of his wife in his hands.

Staline parle aux Alsaciens en Russie

Tracts aériens soviétiques destinés aux Alsaciens obligés de servir dans la Wehrmacht de 1942 à 1945.

Stalin spricht zu Elsässern in Rußland

Sowjetische Kriegsflugblätter für Elsässer, die in den Jahren 1942 bis 1945 in der deutschen Wehrmacht dienen mußten.

Stalin speaks to Alsatians in Russia.

Soviet aerial propaganda leaflets addressed to Alsacians who fought in the German Wehrmacht 1942 to 1945.

Stalin's Soviet propagandists addressed some of their leaflets to a relatively small part of the German Wehrmacht, a minority group of young German speaking Alsatians who had to serve together with German soldiers in Russia. But besides these few addressees this campaign was intended to reach all the ordinary German soldiers as well. They were made to believe that there were some soldiers amongst them who had a good reason for not wanting to die for Hitler and were not prepared to do their utmost. Some of these leaflets contained the names and addresses of Alsatian soldiers taken prisoner by the Red Army:

“Weeks after I had been taken prisoner in Russia my wife found two leaflets in her garden, which had been disseminated in Russia reporting my capture. Another Alsatian soldier had evidently brought the leaflets home on leave and dropped them in our garden. He did not deliver the leaflets himself to avoid detection.”

Aachen, the first major German town occupied in 1944 by American troops was also a battle fought with the non-lethal weapons of psychological warfare.

Thirty different leaflets disseminated by both sides are documented and described in German. An example is reproduced above:

“This darling daughter of a GI is waiting in vain. Her daddy was killed in action in the Aachen sector. She will never understand what for...”

The complete leaflet is reproduced in volume 16, page 386. On the reverse a US-newspaper is reporting: “Nazis Found Fair to Yank Wounded...”

⚡-Leaflet Rockets for Sale!

Description:

After printing of the leaflets was done on the order of the ⚡, the ⚡ leaflet dissemination team took over, rolled the leaflets and placed them inside the rockets "Propaganda Geschoß 41" (Pr Gs 41) (see illustration).

On receiving information where leaflets could be disseminated with best results Wehrmacht command was informed and subsequently front line soldiers evacuated to avoid losses by retaliatory fire from American artillery.

The ⚡ dissemination team drove up close to the front line, set up their launchers, and fired them. The leaflet rockets left the firing pad leaving a trail of smoke and fire which was easily detected by American observers. Then the launchers were quickly dumped on trucks and everybody took off rapidly to avoid the American artillery fire.

Note:

For more information see next page and volumes 16 and 17: "Leaflets from Germany for American and Allied Soldiers in Western Europe 1944 - 1945".

⚡-Leaflet Rockets for Sale

Offered for sale are leaflet rockets "Propaganda Geschöß 41" (Pr Gs 41). The rockets are deactivated and completely empty of propellant, black powder or leaflets. In the first years after World War II it was occasionally possible to find leaflet rockets "Pr Gs 41" which had misfired and buried themselves below ground. The leaflet rockets offered here come from my collection. They are complete and consist of the following parts:

- Rocket body, as illustrated below with anticorrosive paint on outside.
- Bakelite nose cap.
- Tube with split case to accommodate leaflet roll and keep it from crinkling.
- Baffle plate to push the leaflet roll out of the rocket tube.
- Spreading spring to open the roll of leaflets after ejection.

The rocket body is about 16 inches in length, with a maximum external diameter of 2,9 inches and a weight of less than 7 lbs. The interesting parts are the base venting venturis, half of which are inclined to rotate and stabilized the rocket in flight, see the illustration.

Due to the actual "War on Terror", shipment is not possible.

Leaflet rocket as described above. "Feldgrau" paint and stenciling.

Order #S1-2515

KRIEGS- MÄRCHEN?

Feindpropaganda?

BOMBEN

hätten von dem Flugzeug fallen können, das dieses Flugblatt abgeworfen hat. Weshalb schickt der Feind Flugblätter statt Bomben? Muss er vielleicht mit Bomben sparen?

NEIN: Dieses Flugblatt hat DIR etwas zu sagen. Es soll DIR das Leben retten. Prüfe daher genau, was es zu sagen hat.

1. Deutschland hat den Krieg verloren. Wenn es irgendetwas gegeben hätte, um die Niederlage abzuwenden, so wäre es jetzt eingesetzt worden, um im Osten und Westen den feindlichen Einmarsch nach Deutschland zu verhindern. Und da im Maschinenzeitalter keine Wunder geschehen, kann auch die größte Tapferkeit und Opferfreudigkeit nur eines mehr erreichen: Deinen eigenen Tod.

2. Du kannst Dich VIELLEICHT noch retten. Im Angriff oder Gegenangriff bietet sich manchmal Gelegenheit, sich zu ergeben bzw. zurückzubleiben und sich gefangennehmen zu lassen. Der Feind ist in der Lage, jeden Widerstand rückwärtslos zu brechen. Es liegt an Dir, in hoffnungsloser Lage anzuzeigen, dass Du nicht Selbstmord begehen willst. Du zeigst das, indem Du die Hände hochhebst und etwas Weißes schwenkst.
